CLASH WITH JAPS UNIMPORTANT IS OFFICIALS' BELIEF

Minister Cables That Report Is Being Sent By Mail

WASHINGTON ASKS THAT SUMMARY BE SENT BY CABLE

Report States That All Is Quiet at Scene of Trouble

Washington, March 17.—Minister Reisch at Peking advised the state department today that all was quiet at Tien Tsin, where there was trouble last week between American soldiers and Japanese and that the was sending a full report of the incident by mail. The department instructed him to report all important facts by cable immediately.

The minister made no mention of the nature of the difficulty either in Saturday reporting that he had sent First Secretary Spencer from Peking to investigate.

Associated Press dispatches from Peking have described a raid by Americans on the Japanese consulate, in which the consul was seriously wounded, the seizure of two Americans in the French concession by Japanese military guards and an attack by Japanese upon Americans at a moving picture theatre in the French concession.

The fact that Minister Reisch thought it unnecessary to send his report by cable regarding the incident, indicating that he did not attach great importance to the matter.

URGES CLEAN CITY FOR RETURNING SOLDIERS

Returning soldiers and sailors are not so much interested in the entertainment and demonstrations offered by homefolks as they are in taking up their social and industrial lives where they left off two years ago, according to speakers at the special service at the Second Presbyterian church Sunday night. The speakers were Major Charles W. Montgomery, who recently returned from France, Earl Canfield, a returned sailor, Don D. Weld, former pastor of the Second church and now engaged in Y. M. C. A. work in the central department of the army, and Rev. Benjamin R. Weld, the present pastor who served as chaplain in the army and "Y" worker in army camps and on transports.

Major Montgomery urged that all honor was due to the fighting men for what they did but that they must not lose sight of the fact that it was the united effort of the American people and the allies which made the victory possible.

Canfield in his talk dwelt upon the work of the various welfare organizations and the effort of army and navy officials to surround the soldier and sailor with the best influences.

Mr. Tullis declared that the army and navy was the best place in the world to the young man, from a moral standpoint. He urged that the same moral safeguards be provided when the men return home.

Rev. Mr. Weld declared that the fighting man who is returning home is not so much interested in the alarm, demonstrations and celebrations as he is in resuming his social life and taking up his old job when he comes back.

OVERHEATED PIPE IS CAUSE OF BLAZE

The North Newark and Central fire companies were called to the Mrs. Hendricks residence at 338 North Fourth street Sunday morning at 4:45 o'clock, where they found a fire burning between the door and ceiling above the living room. A family had just moved in and had started a fire in the base burner, the stove pipe running through the ceiling and floor instead of the flue, in order that it might be through a grate on the upper floor. The pipe became overheated and set fire to the floor and joists. No one was at home at the time but a neighbor saw the sparks and telephoned in the alarm. The flames were quickly extinguished by chemicals with a loss not to exceed $100.

GERMAN MILITARY CASTE THREATENS NEW GOVERNMENT

President and Ministers Are Mere Puppets London Writer Says

DRAW UP ORDERS WHICH ARE ISSUED BY EBERT

Other Correspondents Deny Cruelties Attributed To Spartans

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] London, March 17.—Special dispatches from Berlin report that the suppression of the recent Spartacan outbreak there has shown that a military and monarchist reaction is growing and overshadowing the new government.

The Berlin correspondent of the Mail, who on February 27 sent a dispatch outlining plans for a monarchist uprising in Germany arrived in London, having left Berlin on March 14 after a residence there of three months. He reiterates the statement made in his dispatch, saying that President Ebert, Chancellor Scheidemann and Minister of War Noske are merely puppets. He declares that for the purpose of retaining power they have allowed members of the military caste to reappear as organizers of the new republican army.

"These men are the real governors of Germany," he says. "They make the edicts and Chancellor Scheidemann and his colleagues willingly sign them."

Similar testimony is given by other correspondents in telegraphing from Berlin, some stating that the capture of the suburb of Lichtenburg has been intentionally prolonged with a view to exterminating the Spartans, whose treatment at the hands of government troops is said to be sharply condemning.

While alleged atrocities are attributed to the Spartans details which have been given are doubted or denied. Even the Vorwaerts admits them to be much exaggerated. The correspondents concur in the statement that extreme bitterness has been created against the government troops and that further trouble is inevitable.

According to a dispatch to the Mail the Spartacan revolt will certainly recur in ever increasing force unless a miracle happens. It adds that Herr Noske's forces have been recruited by bribes and promise of big rations and that to this may be attributed some of the food shortage in Berlin.

URGES BAPTISTS TO REDEEM THEIR PLEDGES

YANKEE TRICK RESULTS IN SEVERE DEFEAT OF BOLSHEVIKI FORCES

Kill 57 of Enemy, Capture Five Prisoners and Five Machine Guns and Have Only One Man Wounded in Short Battle

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Archangel, Saturday, March 15.—The futile attack which the Bolsheviks delivered yesterday on the allied and American forces comprised the first serious attempt to cut the line of communications of the Divina and Vaga columns. The attempt was not only frustrated but the Bolshevik forces suffered a severe defeat and sustained heavy losses.

Moving from the Kadish-Tarevo sector, the first battalion of the Sixth Soviet regiment, 500 strong, attacked at 1:45 o'clock in the afternoon the allied positions in the village of Gorka, which is 25 miles north of Bersenik, at the junction of the Vaga and the Divina. The American-Russian detachment at Gorka was well entrenched and it decisively repulsed the enemy capturing five prisoners and five machine guns during the fighting. After the attack the bodies of 57 Bolsheviks were found. The allied force suffered only one casualty—a man wounded and it is believed that the Vaga and Divina forces, which are quiet as are the other fronts. American officers who returned today from the Vaga front declared that the Bolsheviks sustained exceedingly heavy losses last week. They related one particularly instance of such losses to the correspondent. It occurred after the enemy had razed with artillery fire nearly all the blockhouses in Vistavka.

All the defensive troops withdrew with the exception of a squad of Americans who lay concealed in a partly destroyed blockhouse with machine guns. Ten enemy scouts advanced and were permitted to cut the barbed wire entanglement. On doing this they shouted back to their comrades that the village had been abandoned.

When the first column of the Bolsheviks walked unsuspectingly up to the entanglements the Americans inside the blockhouse turned their machine guns loose and mowed down the entire enemy party. After this the defensive forces went back into Vistavka.

Of the total of 36 Americans listed as missing since the beginning of hostilities on this front it has been reported that 10 are prisoners in the Bolshevik hospital at Velsk. This information was given an American Red Cross field worker who questioned Bolshevik deserters on the Vaga front.

FEDERAL AGENTS DISCUSS OUTLOOK FOR 1919 BUSINESS

Decreasing Prices Reported in Questionnaires Returned to Board

WAR MATERIALS DO NOT PREDOMINATE REPORTS SHOW

Labor Is More Abundant But Wages Are Not Lowered

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Washington, March 17.—The federal reserve board made public today summaries of reports from federal reserve agents throughout the country in answer to a questionnaire recently sent out to ascertain the outlook of business and industrial readjustment. The reports showed in general large stocks on hand by manufacturers and dealers and a lessened demand with prices decreasing in many cases.

A typical example of the reports from industrial districts was afforded by the tabulation of replies to questions from business concerns in the Philadelphia federal reserve districts. These questions and classified replies were as follows:

"Are the quantities of materials, supplies and goods as shown by your last inventory larger than usual? Yes, 114; no, 129.

"Are they principally for war or civilian business? War work, 20; civilian business, 221.

"Have the prices of your product been lowered recently from the high prices prevailing during the war? Yes, 148; no, 93.

"Is labor more abundant? Yes, 225; no, 21.

"Is labor less restless? Yes, 147; no, 91.

"Is there less re-employment? Yes, 186; no, 62.

"Is labor more efficient? Yes, 90; no, 142.

"Has there been any lowering of wages? Yes, 17; no, 228.

"Are you paying less for raw materials? Yes, 131; no, 89.

"Is the supply adequate? Yes, 212; no, 16.

"Do you anticipate making extensive new capital expenditures in the near future which will necessitate the purchase of building materials or equipment? Yes, 42; no, 203.

"Have you a satisfactory amount of business on hand? Yes, 81; no, 150. Most concerns reported the outlook uncertain.

TRAIN IS WRECKED ON WEAKENED BRIDGE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Springfield, March 17.—M. J. Connel, conductor of Springfield, was probably internally injured and J. C. Laurens, brakeman, of Middletown, was cut about the face, when an extra freight train on the Delaware division of the Big Four railroad crashed through a bridge west of here this morning. The cause of the wreck is thought to be a weakened abutment. It is supposed that the water has been undermining it. The engine was about half way across when the abutment gave way and only the engine and one flat car went through the bridge, the momentum of the engine pulling the remainder of the train to safety.

JOHNSTOWN WOMAN GIVEN $490 VERDICT

Suit was brought for damages for personal injuries sustained when a car crashed through a bridge at defendant's store at Johnstown. An order was made overruling a motion for a new trial by defendant, the Ross-Weiss Co.

SPAIN ENDORSES LEAGUE WITH RESERVATIONS

Madrid, Sunday, March 16.—A committee appointed by the government to study the subject of Spanish participation in the League of Nations has submitted a report which will be considered at a special cabinet meeting today or tomorrow. The government entirely endorsed President Wilson's proposals but reserves its decision as to reductions of armaments and the fixing of military forces by members of the league.

It is understood that the government will ask definite assurances as to the Spanish coast line, protectorate in Africa and the suitability of military service as social discipline for Spain. The wish is also expressed that the country may maintain close relations with South American nations of common race origin and language.

Spain will be represented at conferences of neutral nations at Paris by Manuel Gonzalez Hontoria, a liberal deputy and in 1912 under secretaries for foreign affairs, who leaves for Paris on Monday night. Premier Romanones may also go to Paris to attend at least some sessions of the neutral conference if the political situation permits.

Senior Hontoria and other members of the committee who are supporters of President Wilson's ideas consider that the findings submitted to the government in its report will have peculiar weight both because Spain is one of the leading neutral nations and because of the prestige she enjoys among Latin American countries favoring the establishment of a League of Nations. Spain is ready to present her views to the neutral conference on military, economic and social questions but will not discuss Morocco, considering her rights so indisputable that discussion is unnecessary.

AMUSEMENTS

AUDITORIUM. Margaret Anglin, An Actress Who Knows.

"Margaret Anglin is an actress who knows," writes O. L. Hall, the distinguished critic of the Chicago Evening Journal. "She has the velvet touch without which there is no such thing as high comedy acting. John Drew has it, so has Mrs. Fiske; likewise a few others. It comes after years and years of acting. Few of them have it so definitely as Miss Anglin."

This ambitious, tireless player, possessing fame and honor, and standing among the leaders of our stage, is receiving her just deserts. She always has preserved a militant spirit, never resting on victory nor accepting defeat; she is ever up and doing, and nothing is too light or too heavy, too new, too light or too ponderous, too strange or too conventional to prevent her acting it if it seem worthy doing. Today she reincarnates a heroine of ancient Greece; tomorrow she creates a mining camp slattern; the next day she assumes the languors of a middle-aged woman in a Maugham comedy; and another day she puts on all the pretty habits of a spirited and temperamental widow doing her little bit in the war and having the time of her polite life in doing it.

Now an actress whose range is from Athens to Butte and from Shakespeare's England to London's second best circle in 1918—a far cry in either case—is an actress through and through. And when she brings high distinction and technical excellence to all her tasks she is an actress of the very first rank. I have seen Miss Anglin fail to galvanize a dead play, but I have never seen a dead play disintegrate under her touch. That is acting.

"Observation of her treatment of 'Billeted' indicates clearly enough how she can convert a succession of semi-detached episodes, and disclosing traits by trait a more than ordinarily complex character. As she dominates it, the play flows evenly through its three acts. For important personages give a seeming importance even to small talk, and Miss Anglin is in picture and behavior, a person of quality."

Miss Anglin will be seen at the Auditorium theatre tomorrow in her delightful military love comedy "Billeted." The play will be presented in precisely the same manner as given in its long New York and Chicago runs and with the same identical cast of players.

"Social Ambition."

Coming to the Auditorium theatre tomorrow is "Social Ambition," the Seixart drama distributed by Goldwyn, announced as a notable achievement in the art of the cinema as a virtue drama of a man's redemption and a woman's steadfast faith, its action shifting from an Alaska mining camp to the sophisticated society of an Eastern metropolis. Howard Hickman on the role of Vincent Mantion, financially ruined because of his wife's social ambition and the expenditures necessary to satisfy her. To Rhea Mitchell is entrusted the highly sympathetic part of Rose, a dance hall girl in a mining camp.

Anglin allows his wife to divorce him when he no longer has money. He sinks to the depths of despair and rapidly loses his grip on things. Soon he is practically a derelict, with nothing to keep him from descending lower. He drifts to Alaska and into a dance hall. Rose is the foster daughter of the proprietor, as pure as she is pretty.

"The Bird of Paradise."

Even the lure of the tropics has been felt in the hearts of the moviegoers of the North. Perhaps it is because that lure is eternal that "The Bird of Paradise," which comes to the Auditorium theatre Wednesday, March 19th, finds itself going on year after year playing not only to new patrons but to many who have seen it—not once but many times before.

To those who fail, who know the grimmess of rigorous cold, the stubborn resistance to life that nature, and soil, and social complications offer in the lands of civilization, the picture of the mid-Pacific islands with its eternal sunshine, its color and warmth will always attract.

One of the charms of this play is the ever present, weirdly sweet music that steals out of the movie from the forces its appeal to deeper emotionalism, giving peace to troubled souls and a sweeter breath to the island love.

Manager Morosco is presenting the piece this year, with Florence Rockwell in the role of Luana, the little princess. George B. Leffingwell plays the part of Paul Wilson, the young physician, John Walter is the beach-comber, Spring Byington the Diana.

ONE OF THE SCENES FROM "BILLETTED" WITH MARGARET ANGLIN AND CAPABLE COMPANY, WHICH WILL BE AT AUDITORIUM TONIGHT.

ALHAMBRA. "The Sign Invisible."

Manager Fenberg of the Alhambra theatre promises his patrons a feature of unusual excellence when "The Sign Invisible" is shown.

Scene from Oliver Morosco's successful Hawaiian play, "The Bird of Paradise" Wednesday Next.

"Invisible" opens at his house Monday and Tuesday. He says it is a picture with a punch and a moral but that the latter doesn't strike one until the play is over; so dominant is the power of the plot. The story tells what happened to an embittered young surgeon who visits a far Canadian trading post to forget his troubles and perhaps avoid a drunkard's grave. His former religious faith has been shattered by the Almighty's failure to spare the lives of several of his surgical patients and especially by the death of his mother.

By the time he reaches the trading station presided over by Lou Barbeau he is ready for any sort of devilment. There he is first shocked by the doctor-gymnast's daughter, but later cast out of her father's home because of his atheistic utterances. Finding himself refused by the righteous, he turns again to the wicked and in one moment becomes a lawless, ruthless boss that ever hit the north. He meets a mentor in a fugitive second only to the vicious Factor himself.

"Hell Roarin' Reform."

Tom Mix, the William Fox film star, was a two-gun man when he was a Texas ranger and cowboy, and his ability to shoot with both hands got him out of some very tight holes. It was this ability, too, which helped him to wipe out the Shonts gang of outlaws on the Pecos river in New Mexico a few years ago. Now Mix, who for some time has been engaged in thrilling motion picture audiences by his daring horsemanship and athletic feats, has developed into a "three-gun man."

In "Hell Roarin' Reform," a William Fox production, which will be presented for two days at the Alhambra theatre, beginning Wednesday, Mix routs a band of outlaws by operating two six shooters and a rifle simultaneously.

Escapes From Diving Suit.

The fourth episode of B. A. Rolfe's super serial, "The Master Mystery," starring Houdini, the handkerchief king, will be shown at the Alhambra theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

As one of the features of this episode Houdini will be seen in the most able feat of releasing himself while under water from a diving suit the air lines of which have been cut. The diving suit used in this scene was invented by him to the U. S. government. To satisfy the skeptical that no trickery was resorted to Houdini's stunt is shown on the screen in an uninterrupted close-up.

Auditorium-Alhambra Notes.

Margaret Anglin and company arrived from Columbus this afternoon and are quartered at Newark's best hotels. Miss Anglin will be seen in her latest comedy, "Billeted" at the Auditorium this evening.

There will be no matinee of "The Bird of Paradise" on Wednesday. This company comes here from Muncie, Ind., and will arrive in the afternoon and it would be impossible to give a matinee.

Harold Lockwood, the late Metro star, comes to the Auditorium in his last picture on Friday and Saturday. The feature, "Shadows of Suspicion" return has promised to have a special picture program, one feature being Charlie Chaplin in one of his latest, that is sweeping the entire country, "A Night at the Show" was screened at the Idaho in New York last week and broke all house records.

"Her Inspiration," with Amy Allison, a Metro feature, is shown at the Alhambra on next Sunday.

GEM. Peggy Hyland.

Miss Hyland, the William Fox star, will be at the Gem theatre Wednesday in a play by J. Lloyd Sheldon called "Other Men's Daughters." This is a stirring picture with a moral for men and women. It brings home to gay fathers a picture of how they would feel when other men are trifling with their daughters. In this story Shirley Reynolds (Peggy Hyland) fights heroically to bring her father back to the straight road while another father tries to drag her down to the level to which his own daughter had been brought.

Shirley wins her battle after a long series of thrilling incidents and she reunites her father and mother and starts on a pretty romance of her own. Carl Jurkuch, noted for red-blooded plays into which he always intertwines much humor, directed the picture.

LYRIC. Tonight.

The offering tonight is one that has a real punch to it, entitled "The Slacker," a semi-military farce comedy, with Jack Yenckel in the leading comedy role, supported by Steven Berrian, "Silk" Devere, Juanita Laine, Mable Devere, Alyce Berry, and the Gordon comedy troupe are unctuous and are artistically handled; its war scenes, with tanks, battleplanes, big guns and masses of men in action, are powerful and authentic.

"The Common Cause" comes as near being a perfect blend of patriotic propaganda and entertaining drama as anything that has ever been shown on the screen. The production was made under the auspices of and with the cooperation of the British-Canadian Recruiting Mission, and Commodore Blackston also had the assistance of American, French and Italian officers and troops in the making of a mighty subject. The result is a serious feature not only of great timeliness now, but also one which will live and endure.

is said to be one of the best he has ever appeared in.

Tom Mix comes to the Alhambra on Wednesday in "Hell Roarin' Reform" and it's said to be a corking thrilling drama. Houdini in the fourth episode of "The Master Mystery" is an added feature.

Miss Fenberg, loved by many here in Newark, comes down in "The Life Mask." This is a First National Exhibitors Circuit feature.

Blanche Bates in "The Border Legion," a special feature, comes to the Auditorium soon.

The annual style show is set for March 21st-April 1st at the Auditorium. The merchants who are interested have promised Mr. Fenberg elaborate styles in spring costumes, and he in

GRAND. "The Common Cause."

If, after reading the peace terms of America and her Allies, there remains in anybody's mind any doubt as to what the Allies fought for it will be cleared quickly and completely by "The Common Cause." J. Stuart Blackston's latest work, masterpiece, which began a three days' engagement at the Grand theatre today.

Here is a screen production which truly may be called a triumph. Its splendid theme—the cause of civilization upheld by the fighting forces of America and the Allied nations—is presented in a splendidly convincing manner; its drama, rich in virility and pathos, is portrayed by a cast unrivaled in the history of the screen; its comedy touches are unctuous and are artistically handled; its war scenes, with tanks, battleplanes, big guns and masses of men in action, are powerful and authentic.

COX'S HAPPY SUGGESTION.

Notwithstanding such counter attractions as the Republican filibuster in the closing hours of the last congress and departure of the President for Europe, James M. Cox of Ohio made a profound impression on the Conference of Governors and Mayors at Washington, sounding the first real constructive note for the relief of the labor situation in the United States.

The echo of the governor's triumph at Washington has reached over the whole country and his suggestions have been taken up and urged for adoption by the government.

Governor Cox brought the assemblage to its feet cheering when talking issue with Governor Edge of New Jersey, he said that the federal government should continue to take an interest in the business affairs of this country and should use every means in its power for finding jobs for the boys who are returning.

The Buckeye chief executive further suggested that the government, controlling the railroads, should make concessions in freight rates on building materials of all kinds to encourage building of roads, public and private structures of every kind and homes. He further urged the establishment of a fair price list on building materials not to fix the prices but to determine what is a fair price for the various materials.

"Determine what is a fair price," he declared, "and no price fixing will be necessary. Public opinion will do the rest."

At the conclusion of the Governor's address the applause which had been absent, or very mild during the whole session, continued for over a minute with the entire assemblage on its feet. At recess time the governor was overwhelmed with congratulations.

Buds are appearing upon the trees and bushes. Spring approaches. Is Newark to have a spring housecleaning? If the annual clean-up day inaugurated here a few years ago was a good thing, and everybody admits that it was, why not revive the custom this year? How about it Mayor Atherton? Can't you start something?

The names of Licking county soldiers and sailors after whom Bring 'Em Back clubs are organized are appearing upon the court house park bulletin boards. The name of every soldier and sailor and marine should be in the list. Anybody may start a Bring 'Em Back club. Let's overlook none of the boys.

And with all the automobiles to be on the road as the prices come down, it will take a perspective to see over the heads of the crowd on Sunday after noon.

When Mr. Ford puts his new and cheaper Oliver on the market will the rest of the street car systems go into receivership?

Spend but spend wisely. Save earnestly. Buy War Savings stamps.

COLLEGE LIFE.

Anxious parents are supposed usually to fear that their darlings away at college are studying too hard. But not much "midnight oil" is burned over books now. The illumination for the benefit of many students tends more to the theater footlights just above the bald headed row, and the brilliant chandeliers that hang over the evening suppers.

A father who was hesitating recently as to which college to send his son, recently visited one of the more famous universities, which is located near a large city. He learned that the average student visited the big town on an average once a week to attend the theaters and have hotel dinners.

This is going some, and quite a distance from cherished ideals. Also quite a bill for some hard working parents to settle. This type of experience will make the gilded youth a disciplinarian judge of high kicking and metropolitan cookery. But it hardly creates the intellectual leadership for which colleges are supposed to exist. With all that the modern college offers in athletics and social life, it seems insane when young men can't be happy without so much sporting experience.

Of course in any college there is always a large body of students who quietly attend to their work. But the rich man's son element becomes more and more prominent. College faculties have their hands in winning the interest of this element for the real things in life.

Considering the tendencies referred to above, college athletics are a great blessing. They divert much energy that otherwise would run toward follies. Unless a boy's character is quite positively formed, he is better off in a college having the more secluded locations, so that he is not to constantly tempted by the enticing distractions of large cities, all of which may be taken as an argument for selecting "Newark's College"—Denison University at Granville as the place to send young men and young women. Granville offers every advantage of the larger and more aristocratic schools and none of the disadvantages.

Suggestions for the day: Remove the unsightly sewer tile at the court house approaches and in its place put a real stationary policeman. Newark isn't "Podunk."

What's become of the thought of erecting a soldiers' and sailors' memorial building? Let's make it a County Library.

BEWARE THE SHARKS.

(Chicago News)

Many people do not know that various promoters of fictitious or doubtful securities took advantage of the liberty bond drives in order to pick victims from among small and credulous investors. They mobilized for liberty bond drives, entire forces of salesmen and then they induced every person to whom they sold liberty bonds to give these promoters of dubious stock offers to exchange their "gilt-edged" securities, promising extremely high rates of dividends, for liberty bonds, for which they offered a premium.

Many inexperienced investors readily succumb to these allurements. Indeed, investigation by government agencies has revealed that a large volume of liberty bonds has already been traded for worthless stocks, or at least for securities whose value is highly problematical.

To prevent innocent investors from being swindled the treasury department and the Federal Trade Commission have joined in a campaign to curb dishonest methods of stock promotion. Their decisions hold that stocks and bonds are articles of commerce and that, therefore, the commission has jurisdiction over stock promoters who indulge in such unfair practices as unloading wild-cat shares on inexperienced investors in return for liberty bonds.

Holders of liberty bonds ought to investigate with the utmost care any proposal to trade their liberty bonds for stocks or other securities for which promoters make extravagant claims. Sound advice on the actual value of stocks is always to be obtained from reputable bankers.

LEAGUE AS AN ISSUE?

(Cleveland Plain Dealer)

If anyone expected the Republican party to go to the country next year upon the issue of hostility to the league of nations his opinion should be reformed. For the publications of a gathering storm are unmistakable. As related in these columns several days ago, the first test of public sentiment showed a decided leaning toward the league when a steadfast Republican district in Pennsylvania returned a Democratic league advocate to congress.

Chairman Hays in his keynote speech at Chicago the other day declared that Republicans "seek earnestly and prayerfully for methods lessening future wars and will go far indeed in an honest effort to that end."

Last week Senator Lodge, leader of the Republican opposition to the league in the upper branch of congress, declared, "My desire is simply to have the constitution for the league proposed by the commission of the peace conference thoughtfully and carefully discussed and considered."

No advocate of the league of nations is likely to take exceptions either to the Hays or Lodge statement. Opponents of the league like Birch Reed and the vituperative Sherman will find little encouragement in such liberal utterances. Clearly Hays and Lodge are not made of their stuff.

Senator Lodge is himself thoroughly on record in favor of some kind of international league in speeches made three or four years ago—long before it was imagined that a Democratic president would ever appear as its chief advocate—and any position of complete, outspoken opposition, such as that of the soul of Reed and Sherman to expound, could not now be maintained with any appearance of logic. Chairman Hays, whose job it is to keep an ear to the ground, knows well that a party seeking control of the government upon such a platform as his would be in reference to the league of nations would inevitably ride to a painful fall.

President Wilson is back in Paris. The league of nations is again before the representatives of the powers. No one knows better than an experienced lawyer and legislator like Lodge that unless there be a league established the war, in a large sense, will have been fought in vain; that without a strong league to sustain the decisions of the conference the fruits of the costly triumph will crumble to nothing in the grasp of the victors.

Can any great party care to go before the people of America upon a platform denouncing a league of nations?

A WAIL FROM A TURK.

(Pittsburgh Gazette-Times)

It may be conceded that Tewfik Pasha, former grand vizier of Turkey, sincerely deplores the Armenian massacres—now. He has lost his job and is a fugitive; there is still a chance that he may lose his head, as he richly deserves to do. Under these circumstances it is not surprising that he should strive to shift responsibility for Turkish crimes to other shoulders and make a virtuous pretense of desire that any guilty among his compatriots shall be punished. "The Musselman criminals have been arrested and will be punished as public opinion in Turkey demands," he declared, leading up to a demand for punishment of the leaders of Armenian bands. He would have justice meted out equally to both sides. But Tewfik chooses to overlook one important fact. Whatever the Armenians did to the Turks they did in self-protection. It was Musselman lives or their own. They defended themselves. They would not have taken up arms against a humane government. They were driven into desperation by the barbaric cruelties of the Turkish government and its instruments. And we have yet to see evidence that any of those Musselman criminals are to be punished by their kind for their crimes.

THOSE WE KNOW BEST.

(Youth's Companion)

How little we know those we know best! We know the face, study it long and carefully until every line and feature are deeply impressed upon the memory. We know the carriage and the manner, the gait and the external bearing, and we know the sudden and delicate changes of expression, know the voice with all its tones and inflections so that we can recognize it instantly among hundreds. But the soul we do not know, even after long acquaintance and careful study, not so that we can gauge its motives and explain its course. With all our watchfulness the thoughts escape us and the inner life is hidden from our minutest and most exact research. We can never secretly predict the actions of others, although such prediction is among the most important branches of our practical life.

How should we know our friends, when we do not know ourselves, have so often but the dimmest insight into our own motives, and cannot tell whence they spring or whether they will lead us? Even when we have accused them of this or that, and they have been astonished to find that others, whose judgment we respect take a very different view of them. And on the rare occasions when we learn what our friends really think of us we are puzzled to see that they have misjudged us so completely.

In the same way those who are dearest to us and whom we think we understand perfectly often appear in quite another light to strangers or outsiders. For example, how many women know husband or father as generous, sympathetic, considerate, tender, devoted, and never suspect that this same husband or father appears to his business acquaintances in quite a different aspect? Those who know him in the way of business perhaps find him hard and mean and exacting and in some cases absolutely unscrupulous and unscrupulous. And yet, quite irreconcilable and incompatible with one another, as it seems to us, yet supported by facts beyond controversy of dispute; for the human soul is a strange and unaccountable and complex thing.

Which does not mean that we are not to love and trust. Without love and trust life is impossible—at any rate, worthless. But it is wholesome to consider occasionally that, with those we know best, as with so many other things, we are in a dim country of conjecture and uncertainty and ignorance, where one of the most dangerous pitfalls is assuming that we know things that we do not and cannot know.

How Great Poems Were Written.

Two of the greatest poems in the language were written by chums competing against each other in friendly rivalry. They undertook to work at these poems for six months and then compare results. Keats went to the Isle of Wight and wrote "Endymion," and Shelley went to Marlow and, lying in a boat on the Thames, wrote "The Revolt of Islam."

And because a fellow is there with bells on, don't jump to the conclusion that he is a ringer.

Did You Know

That the mistletoe proper is a native of Europe? Seventy-six species are known and the whole genus is parasitic on both deciduous and evergreen trees and shrubs. In England it is most abundant on the apple tree and is rarely found on the oak. The growth of the plant is slow but its durability is great, its death being determined generally by that of the tree on which it has established itself.

Cadomene the "Miracle Medicine"

Many People Have Written of the Soothing "Miracles" Performed by Cadomene Tablets.

They Are Only Recommended for Worn-Out, Impoverished, Nervous People, But—

People have testified that they have been cured of rheumatism, headache, stomach disorders, pains of neuralgia, etc., through the use of this great medicine- Cadomene Tablets. It only means that the Cadomene has helped to build up the strength of all organs and then nature has a chance to bring the cure. Therefore, if you are tired, sluggish, and your feet and hands are cold and clammy, and nervousness overwhelms you by sleeplessness, irritability, temper, and your heart flutters while dizziness and trembling seize you at times, you may ward off serious consequences and become full of vigor, red blood and health for every vital organ of your body. Mr. J. W. Biggs of R. H. No. 3, Fort Worth, Tex., writes: "I have taken one package of Cadomene and it has put me on my feet and I feel fine."

Cadomene builds up nerves and bodily vigor. All druggists—(Adv.)

WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Last week's War Savings Stamp sales in Licking county bring the total for the year 1919 up to $93,421. This week, without doubt, the sales will pass the $100,000 mark. For the week ending March 13 the postoffice sales were $3643 and the bank sales $1458. Cash sales reported by telephone today indicate that this week's report will make a much better showing as several thousand dollar sales are reported.

Mrs. Flora D. Williamson, R. D. No. 1, Johnstown, bought 200 War Savings stamps from Postmaster Goodkewitch, Friday, and named them "Bring 'Em Back" clubs in honor of Benjamin H. Green, Company B, 352th Infantry, A. P. O. 776, Ancon, and James A. Kasan, headquarters company, 354th Infantry, O. P. O. 776, A. P. O. 776.

As soon as a "Bring 'Em Back" application blank is returned to the local War S. S. committee showing War Savings Stamp stickers to the amount of $200, the organizer of the club receives a charter and the county chairman sends a letter to the soldier in whose honor the club is formed. The names of soldiers and sailors after whom clubs are named are posted upon the court house park bulletin boards in alphabetical order.

Private Stewart received the Distinguished War Cross in recognition of unusual gallantry in action near Ronssoy, France, September 20, 1918. Disregarding a severe wound in the head, Private Stewart fearlessly advanced toward an enemy machine gun nest and put it out of action with a grenade a few seconds before he was killed by fire from another machine gun nest near by. His home was in Jordanton, Tex.

THE MARKETS

Tendencies become more uncertain later in the week, movements becoming mixed on further selling of high grade in industrials, especially United States Steel which was offered in lots as large as 5,000 shares down to 94 3/4. Shippings, leathers and motors developed further erratic characteristics and oils followed renewed buying of oils and low priced motors, trading diminishing on the irregular rebound. Another break in French exchange was accompanied by heaviness of Paris sixties, but Liberty bonds held steady.

Chicago Grain Review.

Chicago, March 17.—Wet weather and prospective increased demand for food supplies tending to the provisioning arrangement with Germany led to sharp advances today in the corn market here. Opening quotations, which ranged from 1 1/4c to 1 1/2c up with day 1 1/2c to 1 1/4c and day 1 1/4c to 1 1/2c, were followed by additional gains and then a moderate reaction.

Oats took the same path as corn. After opening 1 1/2c to 1 1/4c higher, with May 62 1/2c to 63 1/2c, the market scored a further upturn.

Provisions jumped to a maximum limit. Enlarged business with Europe was looked for.

RETROSPECT THAT IS VAIN

Mournful Man Has Come to Realize That All Things That Are to Be, Will Be.

"I sometimes think as I watch the efficient workings of a cream separator," said the stoop-shouldered man, "how much happier my life might have been could I but have had when I was first married a separator, operated somewhat on the same principle, into which my wife's relatives could have been thrust, the crank turned and by centrifugal or centripetal force—I can never remember which is which—the two kinds divided, like the sheep and the goats of Holy Writ.

"Out of one spout would have come the undesirable ones—those who controverted my cherished theories, disagreed with me on various subjects, and jeered at my lack of faculty, the while they borrowed money from me and paid not again, and wore, their sex permitting, such of my Sunday garments as fitted them. And from the other spout would have emerged the good ones—those who tried to pay their way by being sympathetic and tactful, who were diplomatic enough to agree with me when it did not make any particular difference, and occasionally lent me money and were not forever dogging me to get it back. But, of course, nothing of the kind was then or ever will be invented. Man was made to mourn and his wife's kin were made to see that he does mourn."—Kansas City Star.

SEEKING USES FOR LIGNITES

Federal Bureau of Mines Will Make Investigation of What May Be New Fuel Supply.

The bureau of mines will make an investigation to determine the commercial and economical value of lignites and the practicability of their utilization in production of fuel oil, gasoline substitutes, ammonia, tar, solid fuel, gas for power and other purposes, under the terms of a senate bill which the house of representatives adopted. An appropriation of $100,000 was voted. It was argued that the object of the investigation is to demonstrate the commercial value of lignite, which is one-third of the coal deposits of the nation.

A vast volume of the deposits is on government land, and Texas has approximately 23,000,000,000 tons. The official report says there is bituminous coal in Texas, but not sufficient to supply the railroads, and in urging the passage of the bill Representative Wingo of Arkansas told the house that proper development of lignite in Texas with its full uses demonstrated would save an annual fuel bill to the people of that state of $15,000,000.—Houston Post.

Found Platinum Beds.

Dr. Herschel C. Parker of Columbia university, while on an exploring expedition to Alaska last summer, discovered extensive platinum beds in the Sushitana and Xentna valleys in the Cook inlet country. He brought out a large number of ore samples on his return to the States, and is now engaged in exhaustive tests of the metal. He expects to establish a plant for handling the ore when he goes back to Alaska next spring.

"The Alaska platinum ore is low grade," said Doctor Parker, "but it is there in abundance. It will have to be handled in large quantities and under scientific methods of economy to make it pay. The question of its commercial value is simply one of engineering. With the end of the war and the consequent wide use of platinum for jewelry, I believe the Alaska beds will prove a valuable source of world supply."

Mystery Port.

A mystery port on the east coast of England was one of the wonders of the war. Its name is now revealed as Richborough, near Sandwich. Here there is a wide stretch of marshland surrounding the mouth of the River Stour, and upon this has been built a town covering considerably over two thousand acres. From this place one and a quarter tons of stores have been sent to the western front alone. This great new port is just outside Sandwich, one of the old Cinque ports famous in the days of Queen Elizabeth. The ancient town, where a few years ago the grass was growing in the streets has taken on a new lease of life.

Sniper Was Busy.

Private Lewis made down his bed in the corner of a building that was just in the edge of what would have been No Man's Land had the armistice not intervened.

"I sure didn't think I'd ever sleep here," he said to a comrade.

"Why, I was popping away at a sniper from that hole in the corner just a couple of days ago. Gee, but it seems queer!"

"And what was the sniper doing to you?" some one inquired from the other corner.

"Well," said Lewis, "he was sure raising hell with my life insurance."

Miles of Cents.

Nearly two miles of cents raised among the office force of Thomas E. Rush, surveyor of the port of New York, were given to the Salvation Army as the Surveyors' Customs Welfare association's contribution toward happy holidays for the poor. A mile of cents was the goal set for the collections, about $820 being an estimate for that amount, but a sum of $1,509 was collected. The box containing the flood of copper required ten men to lift it.

MAKE THE PENNIES BIGGER

WHEN James Buchanan was President and tall beaver hats were in vogue; when gentlemen wore broad cravats and ladies wore hoop skirts the pennies they tossed to children were as big as quarters. But the cart-wheel coppers your grandfather got for keeping his lace collar clean were not as big in buying power as the pennies of today.

A penny then might buy a pastry, or ten of them take one to the Fair, but your great-aunt and great-uncle couldn't have gone to a movie at any price.

Your great-grandfather may have driven the fastest horse in the country and paid a tidy sum for it. But the price of a stable of thoroughbreds would not have bought him a flier.

Sixty years ago the ladies could go shopping for dry goods and buy silks that would make you green with envy, linens that were linens and broadcloths that beggar description. But what their favorite store did not have they usually got along without.

You can pick up your daily newspaper and in fifteen minutes you can know what the different shops are offering in fabrics, patterns, varieties and qualities that great-grandmother never dreamed could be gathered together under any conditions.

Times have changed, and so have merchandise and business methods. One of the influences that has helped to bring about so much of change, that has helped to multiply opportunities and increased the spending size of our pennies is advertising.

Every merchant, every manufacturer knows that advertising materially reduces selling costs by increasing the demand for and the distribution of the products of hundreds of thousands of mills. Indeed many of the things we count today as necessities or simple luxuries could not be made and sold at their reasonable prices except as advertising has created a broad market for them, making millions of sales at little prices and little profits.

And so you owe very much to advertising. You owe much to the people of yesterday who have read and been influenced by past advertising and so have made possible the economics and varieties and wide distribution of merchandise that you enjoy.

You owe present advertising a thorough reading. A greater familiarity with advertising, with advertisers and advertised merchandise makes continually for the increasing size of your pennies.

A LETTER TO OHIO FARMERS

Farmers everywhere are becoming more and more interested in the Federal Farm Loan system because they realize that it gives the best kind of farm loan. Instead of making loans for one or two years, the Federal Farm Loan act provides for long-time loans that are repaid in small semi-annual installments. Thus the worries and uncertainties of frequent renewals are done away with.

The Federal Farm Loan act provides for the establishment of Land Banks all over the country to attend to the business of making these farm loans. I represent one of these—the Virginia Joint Stock Land bank—and if you want a loan I want to hear from you. Under our plan it is not necessary to join an association, nor buy any stock, because loans are made direct to farmers.

I will be in Newark at the Arcade Hotel on Tuesday, March 18, for the purpose of meeting farmers and accepting applications. If you cannot come in at this time, write me for further information. DONALD R. ACKLIN, Perryburg, O.

Remember This.

One advertisement will not do the work, neither will two advertisements. It takes continuous advertising to bring home the bacon. That is the reason our large institutions are larger. They were small businesses a few years ago, but through continuous advertising they have grown to large institutions. Think this over.
